

The Cedar Creek and Belle Grove Coalition is a group of eight national, state and local preservation, conservation and civic groups representing more than 600,000 members nationwide. The coalition is dedicated to preserving the Cedar Creek battlefield and raising awareness of the urgent threats to the battleground, Belle Grove Plantation and the fledgling National Historical Park. The Coalition believes that Cedar Creek and Belle Grove are historic resources of national significance, and their preservation yields both local and national benefits. Together, these groups have helped protect more than 1,100 acres of hallowed ground at Cedar Creek.

Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities

APVA Preservation Virginia, a private nonprofit organization and statewide historic preservation leader founded in 1889, is dedicated to perpetuating and revitalizing Virginia's cultural, architectural and historic heritage thereby ensuring that historic places are integral parts of the lives of present and future generations.

Belle Grove Plantation

Belle Grove Plantation is one of the oldest and most significant historic house museums in Virginia's Shenandoah Valley. Belle Grove, Inc. is responsible for education programs, museum operations, visitor exhibits and restoration projects at the historic site. Belle Grove and its membership are committed to preserving the heritage of this historic home.

Civil War Preservation Trust

The Civil War Preservation Trust is a 60,000-member nonprofit organization devoted to the preservation of our nation's endangered Civil War battlefield lands. CWPT also promotes educational programs and heritage tourism initiatives to inform the public about the war and the fundamental conflicts that sparked it.

National Parks Conservation Association

Founded in 1919, the National Parks Conservation Association, with 350,000 members, is America's only private, nonprofit advocacy organization dedicated solely to protecting, preserving and enhancing the National Park System.

National Trust for Historic Preservation

The National Trust for Historic Preservation has been helping people protect the irreplaceable for more than 50 years. A private nonprofit organization with more 250,000 members, the National Trust is the leader of the vigorous preservation movement that is saving the best of our past for the future. The National Trust for Historic Preservation provides leadership, education and advocacy to save America's diverse historic places and revitalize our communities.

Preserve Frederick

Preserve Frederick promotes compatible development that strengthens our communities, protects our natural and historic resources and preserves our rural character. It conducts research that promotes a better understanding of land use and transportation issues, supports private and public land protection efforts and educates Frederick County residents on the impacts of poorly planned growth and development, as well as the potential for better growth management.

Shenandoah Valley Battlefields Foundation

As authorized by the U.S. Secretary of the Interior, the Shenandoah Valley Battlefields Foundation serves as the nonprofit manager of the Shenandoah Valley Battlefields National Historic District, partnering with local, regional and national organizations and governments to preserve the Valley's battlefields and interpret and promote the region's Civil War story.

Shenandoah Valley Network

The Shenandoah Valley Network links community groups working on land protection, land use and transportation issues in seven Virginia counties: Augusta, Frederick, Highland, Page, Rockingham, Shenandoah and Warren. Its mission is to support each group as it promotes appropriate growth that will protect traditional towns, rural land uses and natural, cultural and historic resources.